The information in the book has been researched by a team of both disabled and non-disabled people who have visited all the places described. This new edition offers an up-to-date guide to the things you need to know when preparing for a visit. In particular there is a detailed section on accessible accommodation, and another on getting around. Choosing where you stay is likely to result from considering a combination of location, cost, bedroom/bathroom accessibility and general hotel facilities. There is a 'trade-off' between spending more money in the centre of London, and maybe being able to walk or wheel to many of the places you want to visit, or staying further out and travelling in - by whatever means. You can choose somewhere near an accessible tube station, and/or with Blue Badge parking. Whatever you decide, it will be a compromise. The information in the guide will help make the best choice.
